GOMPERS HAS SERIOUS TROUBLE

He May Have to Suffer Dangerous Operation on His Head.

IS AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Is Threatened With Mastoiditis—Labor Chief Has Been Indisposed For Several Months.

Washington, May 27.—Whether Samuel A. Gompers must submit to an operation for mastoditis will be determined by an examination today and tomorow by Dr. Henry A. Polkinhorn, of this city, who went to Atlantic City today to make the examination. Dr. Polkinhorn was asked to go by Mr. Gompers' regular medical attendant, Dr. Henry A. Allen, who also is a throat, nose, and ear specialist.

"Mr. Gompers is threatened with mastoiditis," said Dr. Allen this afternoon, and whether an opeation must be made will be determined by Dr. Polkinghorn's report to me."

"Mr. Gompers' condition at this time is not alarming, but if an operation proves necessary it will, of course, be a serious matter to open the head of a man of his age. He has been ill for some months with this threatened grave mastoid trouble but we have been hoping that an operation would be avoided."

Dr. Allen stated that the court troubles in which Mr. Gompers has patient, who is worrying more about been involved have been bad for his them than he would if he were well. It was the intention to keep the judgment of the Appellate Court from him some weeks ago, but he learned of it and while his sentence was modified from six month to thirty days the news affected him seriously.

That the Supreme Court of District yesterday took the unprecendented step of asking the Supreme Court of the United States to reverse the Appellae Court, Mr. Gomeprs has not been informed.

Mr. Gompers' family has not been summoned to Atlantic City where Mr. Gomeprs is under the care of a nurse, and will not go until the last of the month unless the operation should be decided upon, it was stated by Mr. Gompers' secretary today.

The current issue of the American Federation of Labor Magazine, reviewing the Court of Appeals decision on the contempt case expresses itself with great vigor and is frank in attacking the last court action. It is believed that Mr. Gompers has been to ill recently to have been the author of the article.

GENERAL LOMAX'S CONDITION.

Hope Abanodned For Aged Soldier—Not Expected to Recover From Present Illness.

Washington, May 27.—Hope has been practically abandoned for the recovery of Major-General Lomax, who is in Providence Hospital here suffering from a fractured limb, and it was stated by members of his family last night that he was critically ill. This means that in all probability the end will come for the gallant Confederate officer within the next few hours.

He has put up a hard fight for recovery since carried to the hospital last week and for a day or two it was believed that in spite of his advanced years he might pull through but indications at this time are aparently against him.

When asked whether they believed General Lomax would last through today members of the general's family said that because of the general's present condition there is no telling what might happen.

At a late hour members of his family were resting at his home in preparation for a sudden call back to the hospital if conditions should grow worse during the later hours.

The chancelor sheriff reform bill of Trenton, N. J., which has the approval of President Wilson, passed the Senate by a strict party vote. The measure passed the House two weeks ago.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

War to a finish has been rdeclared by the Police Department against Washington's "loan sharks," and as a result wholesale arrests for alleged violations of the recent Congressional act against the charging of exorbitant interest on loans are being made by the Central Office detectives. Six arrests were made yesterday, and many others are expected to follow.

The case of Sam Gompers, John Mitchell, and Frank Morrison, officers of the American Federation of Labor, adjudged to be in contempt of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was formally submitted to the Supreme Court yesterday on appeal. It is the second time these contempt cases growing out of the historic Buck's Stove and Range Company injunction suit has been in the Supreme Court. It is understood that if Gompers, Mitchell, and Morrison lose their appeals before the Supreme Court, they will appeal to President Wilson for pardon to prevent them from having to serve jail sentences.

Mrs. James Marshall, her 16-year-old son James and her daughter Icy were burned to death and three other children of the family were severely burned yesterday morning at their home at Little Hocking, Ohio, near Parkersburg, W. Va. Mrs. Marshall was kindling a fire with the aid of kerosene when the can she held in her hand exploded. The residence was destroyed.

Rev. Willis B. MacRorie, the former pastor of the Methodist Churches at Mount Horbe, Martinsville and Springdale, N. J., who was suspended by the Newark Conference for six months for "unministerial conduct" following his arrest on November 22 last on charges resulting from the complaint made by Mrs. Amelia Nelson, mother of 19-year-old Miss Gertrude Nelson, was arrested in connection with the same case at his nome in Mount Horbe yesterday. Bail of $500 was furnished by a member of the Mount Horbe Church.

The so-called "patent monopoly," which threatened to prevent cut rates by retailers in all patented articles on the market was destroyed yesterday by decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. The court held that owners of patent are not given the right by the patent law to control the price at which retailers must sell to consumers. The decision, in words, applied only to a nerve tonic for which a patent had been issued, but it will control patented articles, hundreds of which are being sold under restrictions on the retailer not to resell at cut rates.

Driving a mile and a half over a dark road eight miles in the country with her dead lover by her side and with a bullet in her own body was the experience Sunday midnight of Julia Probert, 16, daughter of Geo. Probert, a farmer, near Toledo, O. The girl was driving with George Steele, 19, when they were held up by a foreigner, who demanded money Four shots were fired, two of which took effect in the breast of Steele, killing him almost instantly. The robber escaped in the woods.

For the second time since the tariff tug-of-war started President Wilson "went to the country" yesterday through the press in resisting pressure brought to bear on him and on Congress to recede from the Underwood bill on the wool and sugar schedules. A red- arraignment of the big lobby, which is being maintained here, principally in behalf of the sugar and wool interests, in which the President announced that there "is every evidence that money without limit is being spent to sustain this lobby" by "astute men" who "seek to create an artificia opinion an dto overcome the interests of the public for their private pofit" struck like a broadside the ranks of the men at whom the President was aiming.

STUART WILL SIGN THE ENABLING ACT

Says He Would Not Interpose Executive Veto on People.

QUERY OF LEAGUE.

Candidate Believes People Have Absolute Rights Without Executive Interference.

Richmond, Va., May 27.—If the representatives in the General Assembly pass an enabling act, Henry C. Stuart, as Governor of Virginia, will sign it. He makes this statement in answer to a query directed to him by the officials of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia.

The correspondence between Mr. Stuart and the Anti-Saloon league follows:

Richmond, Va., May 20, 1913.
Hon. Henry C. Stuart,
Richmond, Va.

My Dear Mr. Stuart,—Acting under the instructions of the executive and headquarters committee of the Anti-Saloon League of Virginia, I hand you herewith a note which is self-explanatory.

I have the honor to be,
J. D. M'ALISTER.

Richmond, Va., May 20, 1913.
Hon. Henry C. Stuart,
Richmond, Va.

Mry Dear Sir. —Since its organization it has been the custom of the Anti-Saloon league of Virginia to publish for the information of voters the position of candidates for public office upon the liquor question.

The temperance people of the state believe that it is their right as citizens to vote upon the question of licensing or no licensing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor beverages in the state of Virginia, and desires to exercise that right. They are earnestly seeking at the hands of the next legislature the passage of an "Enabling Act" which will give the people of the state the right to vote on the question of licensing or no licensing the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors within the Commonwealth of Virginia.

In harmony with the above, we addres syou this note ina most respectful way—if you are elected Governor of the State of Virginia, what will be your attitude toward the "Enabling Act?"

We shall be pleased to have any pertinent facts as to your record on the liquor question which it may be your pleasure to give to the public.

We have the honor to be
Very sincerely yours,
J. W. HOUGH.

President Anti-Saloon League of Virginia.

J. D. M'ALISTER,
Secretary.

Richmond, Va., May 20, 1913.
Mr. J. W. Hough, President Anti-Saloon League of Virginia, Foster Building, Richmond, Va.

My Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge your letter of May 19, in which you ask me the following question, "If you are elected governor of the State of Virginia, what will be your attitude toward the 'Enabling Act?'."

Answer: If I am elected governor I will approve by my signature an enabling act, when passed by the legislature, because I believe it to be a fundamental principle of popular government that where the constitution permits it, the people, when their will is made known, have a right, without executive interference, to decide by their vote any question they wish submitted to them.

In answer to the closing paragraph of your letter I will state as to my record that the only vote I have ever cast or had the opportunity of casting in a local option election was in Russell county, some twenty years ago when I voted against license.

Very sincerely yours,
H. C. STUART.

BIBLES FOR HOTELS.

Bible Class of Winchester Orders Big Supply.

Winchester, Va., May 27.—Every bedroom in each hotel in Winchester will within a few days be peramently supplied with a copy of the Holy Bible, a large number of which have been ordered by the Golden Rule Bible class of the Sunday school of Braddock Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

The Bibles will be placed in the bedrooms of Hotel Evans, the Winchester Inn, Fairfax Hall Hotel, the Shenandoah Hotel, the McDonald Inn and the Valley Hotel.

This plan has been adopted by the Gideons all over the country, particularly in the hotels of the larger cities, and reports gathered by the members of the Gideons indicate that the results have been far-reaching in thousands of cases.

"LIGHT HORSE" HARRY LEE.

Remains Will Rest Bisede Illustrious Son.

Lexington Va., May 27.—Hugh A. White ,chairman of the committee of the Virginia legislature, appointed for the purpose, left Lexington yesterday evening for Cumberland Island, Ga., to secure the remains of "Light Horse " Harry Lee, and bring them to Lexington for final interment in the Le Mausoleum beside the remains of his illustrious son, General Robert E .Lee, at Washington and Lee University.

The General Assembly of 1861 appropriated $500 for the purpose of having his remainss brought back to Virginia, but the war between the states prevented.

At the last session of the General Assembly a committee of three was appointed to carry into effect the act of 1861.

COLONEL PRESSES HIS LIBEL SUIT

He Gives Digest of Case in Action for $10,000 Damages.

TELEGRAM OF CRANK.

Ex-President Contends That he Has Never Used Liquor Except on Widely Scattered Occasions.

Marquette, Mich., May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt was called as his first witness today in his $10,000 damage suit against Editor George A. Newett, of Ishpeming, who printed the charge that the colonel gets drunk.

The colonel handed Attorney James H. Pound a preliminary digest of the testimony he wished to give. Pound began the presentation of Roosevelt's contention that he never has used liquor except in moderate amounts and on widely scattered occasions.

The colonel today is guarded by Frank Tyree and "Jimmy" Sloan, who were secret service agents in the White House when Roosevelt was President. Last night, in the long session which completed the picking of the jury, the two men sat close to him.

A crank telegram received in the court room late yesterday was the partial cause.

"Do not proceed with this all-important case until I get there," wired an unknown crank.

It did not bother Roosevelt, but his entourage insisted that as long as Tyree and Sloan are witneses here any how they might as well be used as guards.

YOUNG WIFE'S SUICIDE.

Drank Carbolic Acid and Died in Her Husband's Arms.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 27.—Domestic worries, according to the police, prompted Mrs. Anna E. Thackera, 21 years old, to commit suicide last night in her home, No. 2112 South Seventh street, by drinking a large quantity of carbolic acid. After drinking the poison the woman stagered into the room in which her husband was sitting and gasping: "I have done it," died in her husband's arms.

According to the police the woman was despondent because members of her husband's family treated her coldly. The Thackera's have been married hree years and have two children.

NO CHANCE OF WAR.

Japan Regards United States As Her Best Friend.

San Francisco Cal., May 27.—Dr. Hamilton Wright Mabie, associate editor of the Outlook, who arrived here from the Orient yesterday, in the steamer Shinyo Maru, after a lecture tour in Japan under the auspices of the Carnegie Foundation, declared that in his opinion there was not even a remote possibility of war between this country and Japan.

"Admiral Togo once told me that for Japan to war with the United States would be to commit national hari-kari!" said Dr. Mabie. "Japan does not want war, the country is in no condition for war.

"I know of no more brutal thing than to put Japan in a position, where, in defense of its national honor, it would have to fight.

"It is true that there is a feeling of quiet resentment as a result of the alien land law situation, but I may say that the people of Japan are not angry. They are merely astonished and hurt."

Accompanying Dr. Mabie was Dr. Juichi Soyeda, a Cambridge graduate, former vice minister of Finance of Japan, who has been sent to the U. S., as a private citibzen to bring a message of patience to the Japanese of America, who may feel hurt as a result of the alien-land measure.

"Rational Japan is not thinking about war," said D. Soyeda. "We look to the United States of America as our greatest and best friend.

"The whole thing in this situation is that Americans and Japanese do not understand each other."

CIVIL WAR FACES BALKAN ALLIES

Servia's Demands Throw Coalition Into Conflict.

BULGARIA HOLDS OFF.

Eighty Thousand Bulgars Said to be Massed Near City of Sofia Ready for Eventualities.

London, May 27.—Peace in the Balkans today seemd a lonw way off and the Balkan alliance which held together long enough to bring about the defeat of Turkey, apparently is on the verge of disintegration, before the allies reap the fruits of their costly victory.

In fact, a new Balkan war, more serious perhaps, than the fight against the Moslem, now is imminent.

In doplomatic circles Servia's representations to Bulgaria amount to an ultimatum, and as the government of Bulgaria is said to be unlikely to grant the demands, the alliance is likely to be broken in so far as it applies to Bulagria and as Servia is said to be unlikely to grant the demands, the aliance is likely to be broken in so far as it applies to Bulgaria and Servia. Greece and Bulgaria are still in a state of war about Salonika, and it is believed that these two states will break their pact..

It is believed that Greece and Servia are mutually relying on each other for aid in opposing the Bulgars, and Dr. Daniel the peace plenipotentiary in London, is authority for the allegation that Bulgaria regards the present situation as "intolerable" and will yield neither to Servia nor Greece.

A dispatch from Vienna today said that 80,000 Bulgarian troops were massed around Sofia, so that it is regarded as certain that the Bulgarian cabinet will refuse to grant the demans of Servia. A semi-official editorial in the Mir, a Sofia newspaper, characterizes the Servian demands as an ultimatum which Bulgaria cannot grant.

A dispatch from Athens stated that the Greeks lost three officers and fifty six men killed in the fighting with the Bulgars, and three officers and 134 men wounded. The Bulgarians have not announced their casualties.

BAPTISMS AT SHENANDOAH.

Female Preachers Attract Converts to Their Free Mission.

Shenandoah, Va., May 27.—Several female preachers, calling their work the Free Mission, have been carrying on meetings at Shenandoah City for about six months past, and it is said have had 105 converts in that place. Thirty converts were baptized in the Shenandoah river last Sunday, and there was baptizing again this Sunday.

Most of the work done by these people has been through three women. They have held meetings about three times a weer or oftener ever since they came to Shenandoah, and are said to never fail to have a crowd. Last week they were joined by five men and two women, one of the men baptizing the converts.

The Free Mission, as they call themselves, resemble the Faith Healers in their views and practices. They have been holding their meetings in the old Masonic hall on Maryland Avenue, but bought two lots on the corner near Dallas L. Koontz's and will erect a church in the near future.

LICENSE BILL TONIGHT

If Disposed of in Lower Board Will Lie Over in the Board of Aldermen

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the City Council will be held tonight. In the Common Council the license bill for the coming year will come up on its second reading. As the law becomes operative June 1st, in order to pass it in time ,the upper board will doubtless hold a special meeting this week.

The appropriation bill for the coming year will be presented tonight in the Board of Aldermen. Should it pass, the Common Council could not act upon it tonight, and that board will also probably be called in special session during the week.

Woman Attracts Considerable Attention While Being Taken to the Station House

About dusk yesterday evening, a woman, well dressed in a black silk gown of the latest design, whose condition was of such a nature as to require attention, was taken into custody by a policeman near the post-office. She at first walked with the officer, but upon nearing Royal street she resisted with all her strength, so much so that he servise of a citien were needed to force her along. The two men having the woman in custody endeavored to be as gentle as possible on account of her sex but she cried "murder" with all her powers for about two squares. She was finally placed in the station house where she vented her indignation and contempt for the officers and a number of bystanders whose curiosity caused them to enter the station house.

Later she collapsed from utter exhaustion, fell asleep, and no more was heard of her until this morning. She was brought before the police court and fined $5.

The woman is a dipsomaniac, and for a long time has shown the effects of drink while on the streets although heretofore she has behaved herself in an orderly manner and has managed to get to her home in the extreme southeastern seection of the city. Yesterday, however, her deportment was of such a nature while in the vicinity of the post office that it became necessary to call the attention of the police to her. She was being followed by boys and was using unconventional language towards the youngsters.

Such unfortunate occurrences naturally draw crowds, and while some feed greedily upon the sad spectacle others are inclined to express commiseration for the victim of an ungovernable passion for strong drink.

The woman afforded entertainment for those who had the curiosity to follow her to the station house, and no doubt this morning, when the effects of her indiscretion had worn off and she realized the scenes through which she had passed her better nature asserted itself.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

MEMORIES OF OTHER DAYS.

Death of Oliver J. Schoolcraft Revives Memories of Other Days.

Richmond, May 27.—When the casket containing the body of Rev. Oliver J. Schoolcraft was lowered into its grave today, the last chapter of a life of great brilliancy was closed Mr. Schoolcraft spent many years of his younger life here, and was prominent in social circles. His wife was Miss Mattie Ould, one of the most famous beatuies of the sixties.

The Schoolcrafts lived in Henrico county. Their home, which was noted for its hospitality, stood on the Grove Road, now Grove Avenue. On the place was the famous "hardwood" barn, an immense building with an upper floor of hardwood smoothed and polished like a mirror, and here many of the belles and beaux, chaperoned by stately Southern matrons, would "dance the sun up' and then adjourn to the famous Schoolcraft breakfast waiting in the mansion.

Miss Mattie Oul daughter of General Robert Ould, formely of Washington, lived on Governor street, then one of the most fashionable residence sections of the city.

Richmond—the South—America—has known just one Mattie Ould. For beatuy, wit, brilliancy and sheer audacity, she was without equal, and prominent men of her day. Shotly after the war she maried Mr. Schoolcraft, of the most popular young men in the state, and one for whom a brilliant future was predicted. She lived, however, only a brief time, dying when a little child was born to her about a year later. The infant also died.

Almost immediately after the death of his wife, Mr. Schoolcraft went to Europe and studied at Heidelberg and at several English universities. He then entered the ministry. He was ordained to the Episcopal priesthood in England and filled several charges there.

Mr. Schoolcraft lived abroad until about six years ago, when he was stricken with paralysis. He then returned to America, and when his case was pronounced hopeless he expressed a wish to spend his last days in Virginia and became an inmate of the Virginia Home for the Incurables, where he died Saturday. He had been at the home about eighteen months. He was fifty-eight years old. h,,wo o d -omecd rd rdaordl rdl dlu

Practically all of Mr. Schoolcraft's boyhood days were spent in Richmond. His father, John L. Schoolcraft, was a prominent banker of Albany, N. Y. Oliver Schoolcraft was educated at the Richmond schools and then graduated from the Virginia Military Institute. He entered the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, but resigned upon graduation, and returned to Richmond to look after the Grove Road home.

Many of the "older set' are full of reminiscenses of the halcyon days of the early '60's when Oliver Schoolcraft was a beau and when Miss Mattie Ould was perhaps the most wooed girl in Richmond.

COUGHS PIN FROM THROAT.

Baked in Pie, Chance Removal Spares Swallower Operation.

Winchester, Va., May 27.—When doctors had failed for almost two weeks to coax from hs throat a safety-pin swallowed point downward, a chance coughing fit brought on by their attempts to build him up for an operation relieved H. R. Santmeyer, of Zepp, Shenandoah county.

Santmeyer swallowed the pin with a piece of pie, the pin having been dropped into a jar of berries preserved by his wife last summer. X-rays located it eight inches down. It permitted him to talk, but he was not able to take any nourishment, except a glass of milk, in all the time it remained lodged.

After the County Medical Society had held a clinic on the case it was finally agreed that the pin could be extracted only with an instrument made especially for the purpose, and that the patient would have to go to Baltimore for the operation. In the meantime Santmeyer was brought to Winchester Memorial Hospital for treatment that would prepare him for the ordeal.

While Dr. Boyd was making another examination he placed the patient in position which brought violent cough,with result that the pin came up with such force that it fel lin the opposite corner of the operating room.

Santmeyer's first step was to eat a prodigious dinner.

DOCTORS MEET IN ROANOKE.

Will Hold Two Day's Session Early Next Month .

Roanoke, Va., May 27.—The Southwestern Medical Society with members in every county in Southwest Virginia, will hold its convention June 3d and 4th in the rooms of the Roanoke Chamber of Commerce, with an attendance of more than a hundred delegates. Among the visitors will be men prominent in medical profession from other parts of the State and from cities outside Virginia

Dr. Grimm is an expert on pellagra, and will devote his address to that subject, which is growing in interest. Freeman, who is connected with the State health board will talk of the hookworm disease. His address will prove of peculiar interest, because of the campaign now being waged against the hookworm in Roanoke county, by the State health board.

Up to a year or two ago the Southwestern Medical Society met semi-annually, but has changed its plan so that meetings are held only once each year. This is the twenty-first meeting of the society, arrangements for which have been mapped out by a committee.

Woman May Claim Fortune.

Harisonburg, Va., May 27.—Formal demand has been made by atorneys for Charles H. Nicholas, administrator of the estate of George M. Nicholas, upon the legal representatives of the St. Louis woman for the copy of a writing purporting to be a will of the wealthy victim of the East Rockingham poison mystery, in which she is understood to be the beneficiary to the amount of approximately $125,000. The copy of the instrument was not forthcoming nor was there the least information obtained as to the first move in behalf of the woman to set up a claim to the major portion of the $150,000 estate.

PRESIDENT WILSON ROUTS LOBBISTS.

President Wilson's notification to the public yesterday that a high lobby in Washington was endeavoring to defeat or nullify the downward revision of the tariff which the Democratic party is endeavoring to pass in accordance with its pre-election platform, is an indication that the President does not intend to let the special interests destroy the position that his party has secured by its tariff legislation.

His statement was one of the most sensational and unprecedented steps taken by the President since he assumed office and the effect was immediate and wholesome. According to press dispatches the lobbyists crouched and hurried to cover like fowl threatened by a hawk. Many of them hurriedly surenderd their sumptuous apartments at the big hotels, paid their bills and got of town by the first convenient train.

According to a correspondent of the Philadelphia Record President Wilson is prepared to go into much greater detail regarding the operations of the high protection lobby han he thought necessary in his salty statement of yesterday. He has been gathering material since the fight for tariff revision began, and has found plenty of it ready to hand. Moreover, he is fully prepared to make use of if it becomes necessary to stop the sapping and mining operations of the special interests that will be deprived of some of their peculiar private taxing privileges if the Underwood bill is passed by the Senate in substantially the form in which it came from the House. His broadside against the underhand work of the tariff lobbyists will probably be followed by others before the fight for downward tariff revision is ended by the passage of the bill.

The manufacturers and combinations that enjoy peculiar privileges under the present tariff arrangements are desperate. They are said to feel that if they lose the present fight it will be the beginning of the end of tariffs intended to promote special interests as against the interests of the consumer. Therefore they are not expected to quit the field and allow the good thing they have so long enjoyed to be snatched from them without a desperate struggle. But the President is said to be ready for the fray and feels confident he will have the country with him when the true state of the case for tariff revision and the character of the efforts to defeat it are laid before the people.

The course of the President in appealing to the country may be expected to have an immediate salutary effect on wavering members of the party in the Senate, and put an end to the demands for changes in the Underwood bill that look as if they were dictated by the special interests that have been maintaining big and expensives lobbies in Washington. It will force those who demand changes to justify their course to the public on grounds of merit, and probably will materially hasten action in the Senate.

THE FLY CAMPAIGN.

Children About to Get Busy in Swatting Campaign.

Owing to the cool weather of the past four weeks very little interest was manifested in the fly campaign of the health department. As a rule it is not until the fly becomes plentiful and annoying that any great interest is developed. The swat the fly campaign will then be on and the children can get busy with their fly traps and appliances for capturing the insect.

The prizes that were to be offered for the greatest number of flies killed during May are to be given to the participants in the June fly swatting campaign, as not enough flies were sent in during the month of May.

Three main cash prizes will be offered by the health department. The first for June being $15, the second prize $10 and the third prize, $5.

Several additional donations to the prize fund have been received by Dr. Gorman. The Alexandria Laundry and Frank C. Creighton have made cash donations and E. L. Jameson offered to make one dozen handsome photographs as his donation to the prize fund.

In order that there may be active competition for the prizes offered by the Health Department for June, it becames necessary for the children in Alexandria to show an interest and get busy at once. Now is the time to begin. Cardboard boxes for holding flies killed may be secured free of charge by anyone calling at the officer of the health department on the second floor of the Royal street wing of the City Hall. Merchants of the city who desire to secure a supply of these boxes for free distribution to their customers can get them of the health officer.

Advent of the Fly.

Good morning, Mr. Man, I am now a fly; once I was a maggot. was hatched out of a filthy back yard but most of my kin are hatched out of a horse stable. I live on stable filth and garbage and carry all kinds of disease on my hairy fet. This I wipe off on the sugar bowl or the baby's bottle when I come to see you or wash them off when I take a bath in the coffee cup or in your glass of milk. I canot live where there is no filth. I think you must love me because your premises shrow that you always have such nasty filthy places in which I may live. I hope you will do nothing to disturb those filthy places, so that my family may be with you again next year. The fact is, I have already laid many eggs in various filthy places around your premisss and if you don't disturb my babies, many millions of us will be ready and willing, not to mention being delighted, to call on you again next year. We are glad to see that your house has not been screened, because screened houses prevent our entrance thereto, and you see if we are not permitted to enter we would be unable to alight on and speckle your glassware, paints, and furniture, then you would have to discharge your maid because there would be no work for her, and we are surely not a heartless set and would not think for one instance of throwing your poor maid out of employment.

Denver, Colo., May 27.—Mrs. Anna Kingsley, a prominent society woman, was found dead in the bath tub at her home late yesterday afternoon. WOMAN KILLS INTRUDER.

Breaks Away From Him And Shoots Him Down After Pursuit to Kitchen.

Philadelphia, May 27.—Defending herself against a man who had entered her bedroom after forcing his way into her home, where she was alone, Mrs. Irene Gasparo, a young married woman, residing on Stile street, yesterday shot the intruder twice and killed him instantly. He was Antrea Boschetti.

Mrs. Gasparo is 23 years old and is considered one of the prettiest Italian women in the West Philadelphia settlement. She has one child, about 15 months old, which is in a hospital ill with scarlet fever.

Mrs. Gasparo was in bed when Boschetti entered her home by the rear door today. He made his way to her bedoom, the door of which was locked. Hearing some one at the door, the woman cried: "Who is there?" She received no answer, and, getting out of bed, opened the door.

Boschetti rushed in and, seizing Mrs. Gaspero, tried to smother her screams. Fighting with all her strength, she tore herself from his grasp and pulled a revolver from beneath her pillow.

Boschetti pursued her to the kitchen, where they grappled again Mrs. Gaspero wrenched herself loose a second time and, pointing the revolver at Boschetti, fired. The first shot took effect in the man's neck A second bullet struck him between the eyes.

Boschetti has a wife and child in Italy.

Mrs. Copeland and the boy have fractured skulls, and the boy also has his right leg crushed from the hip down. Mr. Copeland has a number of broken ribs and is thought to be internally hurt. The horse was killed outright, while the surrey was smashed into kindling wood.

Mr. Copeland and his family had been to Hampton and were returning to their home in Foxhill by way of Phoebus. At the crossing is a very dark spot, and the view of the approaching train was hidden by a line of freight cars on the siding.

Physicians say that the chances for the recovery of Mrs. Copeland and the little boy are slight.

Small hope is entertained for the recovery of Robert Palmer, a cattle salesman and member of a prominent Iowa family, who swallowed three bichloride of mercury tablets at Sioux City. He had been reading the newspaper accounts of the approach to death made by B. Sanders Walker, the Macon, (Ga.,) banker, by the accidental swallowing of poison.

While giving a ride to five children in his automobile yesterday afternoon, Rev. John J. Lynch, assistant pastor of St. Thomas' Catholic Church, Wilmington, Del., ran into and instantly killed Grace Geizler, aged 2 years and 6 months. The priest was exonerated by the police and was released after going to the police station and explaining the affair. The child ran from the sidewalk directly in front of the machine. The priest ran the car to the sidewalk in an effort to escape striking the child.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with woman's troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

FLIPPANCY IN GIRLS

By BARBARA BOYD.

"It's all very well," the quiet girl was saying to the little group of intimate friends, "for mother and aunt and grandmother to insist on a girl's being ladylike and retiring and modest and all that. But if she does, she gets left."

"What's the trouble, Phoebe?" chorused the group.

"No particular trouble," blithely returned Phoebe. "But I was just thinking such advice is out of date. If a girl takes it nowadays, it'll make her a wallflower and eventually an old maid; or, I suppose I should say, bachelor girl."

"Something has gone wrong," said one of the girls sagely.

"Did you know Sue Dickinson is married again?" asked Phoebe.

"No!" ejaculated the others. "Who to?"

"Kenneth Leaverett."

"You don't mean it!"

"Yes, I do. And that's what set me to thinking upon old-time advice. In spite of everything her parents said, she ran away, you remember, and married Ned Willoughby. Then she quarreled with him and finally got a divorce. And now in less than a year she is married again. And here are all of us, quiet, ladylike, well-bred girls, hanging yet on the parental stem."

"Huh!" said one indignantly. "I wouldn't want to marry either Ned Willoughby or Kenneth Leaverett."

"That may be," replied Phoebe. "But even if you had, you wouldn't have had the chance. You're not forward enough. I don't want to get into personalities," she said hastily, as she saw a gleam in the other girl's eye. "I'm just drawing deductions. As you know, I was invited to a house party last week, out at Whitney's perfectly superb home. And who do you think was the most popular girl there, quiet, well-bred little me or charming Alice Markham? Not a bit of it. It was a loud, giggling individual who talked constantly, laughed constantly, played jokes on the men, kept herself in every way possible in the center of the stage. The men simply flocked around her. They hovered over her like bees over a flower. And the rest of us sat off in well-bred and ladylike quiet and talked to each other."

"That sort of thing doesn't last," observed one.

"She had a good time while it did last, though. And that's more than the rest of us did."

"I wouldn't care for the attentions of men like that," said another.

"Oh, they were good enough, as men go," replied Phoebe. "You have to take them as they are. You can't make them to order."

"It seems to me, then," said a fourth, "that the men are to blame for all the forwardness and flippancy in girls, and the way they dress and all the other things they do that they shouldn't. It would be sort of comfortable to blame the men for it all, wouldn't it?"

"They won't care," quoth Phoebe. "They'll go right on showering all their attentions on the girl with the most false hair and the biggest hats and the tightest skirts and the readiest laugh, whether there is anything to laugh at or not."

"Let them," interrupted another. "There's something more to life than merely pleasing the men. If I prefer refinement and good breeding and good taste, or think they are right and their opposites wrong, I am not going to throw them over merely to win masculine favor. I think we ought to get down to the bedrock fact of what is right and worth while, not merely to whether our conduct will win fleeting popular favor. We want those things in our character that are going to give us lasting satisfaction. And, believe me, none of us here would find lasting satisfaction in the regard of men who like vulgarity in dress and manner. And, believe me, too, the nicest men don't. And even if they seem to for a little while, it is either out of idle curiosity, or to put in time, or a mere passing fancy. I'll stick to the advices of mothers and aunts and grandmothers. They have been observing human nature a much longer time than we have, and they know how it wears."

"Well," said Phoebe, "I suppose the girl with high standards of conduct is of more value to society than the girl without them. And I suppose it is worth while to be of some value somewhere."

"And I'd rather have my self respect," said another, "than the attention of a dozen men for doing something that I thought beneath me."

Sergeant Didn't "Saboy."

Sergt. Mike Drew was at one time a quartermaster sergeant in the Philippines. He believed he had a working knowledge of the language of the islands, which the soldiers call "Bamboo Spanish."

One day a party of tourists were trying to get two Filipinos to understand that they wanted some trunks taken down to the station. The tourists did everything they knew to get this instruction into the heads of the brown brothers, but it was useless.

Sergeant Drew then offered his services.

"Say, you," he said, turning to the natives, "when the whistle blows on the railroad train, too hoo, you get your bull cart, moo moo, and take these trunks down to the station before the engine starts, ding ding, hah yy?"

"Yo no savez," the natives replied.

"What!" roared Sergeant Drew. "Don't you understand your own language?"

IN BLAZING BIPLANE.

Narrow Escape of British Aviators While 1,200 Feet in the Air.

Salisbury, England, May 27.—Volplaning from a height of 1,200 feet in a blazing biplane, the British aviator, Colyns Pizey, and a passenger, H. Fellows, reached the ground in safety yesterday evening and stepped from the machine just as an explosion of the gasoline tank wrecked it.

The aeroplane was in easy flight over the outskirts of the town, when suddenly the carbureter took fire. Breaking the inlet valve, the aviator shut off the gasoline and started a steep volplane.

The rush of air fanned the flames, and to those who witnessed the incident it seemed as though the men in the machine had but a slender chance for life. Tongues of fire swept under the passenger seat, and Fellows drew himself up and clung to the stays while the aeroplanes drove down in its swift descent.

Pizey hel dthe wheel in firm grip, although the flames scorched his hands, and succeeded in making a splendid landing. Just as the men sprang from the machine the gas tank blew up, but they practically escaped injury.

WANT SOMETHING ORIGINAL.

Laymen Not Satisfied With the Weekly Monotony.

Baltimore, Md., May 27. — The Maryland synod of the Evengelical Lutheran Church held its spring session yesterday in St. Lusk's church, 36th street and Chestnut Avenue. This conference includes the churches of Baltimore, Washington and the suburbs of both cities.

The laymen were drawn into an interesting discussion late in the afternoon by an address on What Kind of a Sermon Lutheran Laymen Like to Hear, by Dr. J. C. Bowers. There was much variance of opinion. Several of the members of the laity stated that they liked sermons that gave them something to think about, something to ponder over. They declared that the ministers ought to study their sermons and be in a position to tell them things they have not heard and do not know. It is very monotonous, they claimed, to sit in a church Sabbath after Sabbath and not hear one new idea advanced, and if a minister would be a success and increase his congregation he must be able to tell them something new and original.

TEN LABORERS KILLED.

Train Plows Through Construction Gang on B. & O. R. R.

Cumbeland, Md., May 27.—Ten foreign laborers were killed yesterday morning on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, near Doegully, W. Va., 37 miles east of here, when express train No. 8, Chicago to New York, plowed into them.

The men were employed on the Paw Paw-Doegully cutoff, being built b ythe Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at a cost of $6,000,000.

The men had been working on the embankment on the west side of the road and had retreated in a body as a blast was about to be put off. They stepped out of the way of a westbound freight train, but failed to notice the approach of the passenger train, which was running at a high rate of speed. They were hurled in all directions.

In addition to the dead three were seriously injured.

The eastbound track runs close to the bank on which the men were engaged. Three men were standing in the centre of the track and were ground to pieces.

There were about 40 men in the gang, including two negroes.

Had Tuberculosis of Glands; Now Well

If you are a sufferer from Glandular Tuberculosis, or know of anyone so afflicted, it might be well to investigate this case, where the writer declares after a year of suffering, he found permanent relief and full recovery to health by using Eckman's Alterative, a medicine which has been effective in many cases of Tuberculosis:—

257 Laruston St., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen:—In March, 1909, I was taken sick and my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis in the Glands.' Medical treatment did not help me, and on my doctor's advice, I went to a hospital to be operated upon, but relief was only temporary. I lost strength, and at times would have cold sweats and fever. In April, 1910, I returned to the hospital, but the continued operations were not benefiting me.

"In the meantime, a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alterative, saying it was good for Tuberculosis. The wounds in my neck were still open and in a frightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles, I found I was improving, having gained weight, could eat, and was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well, which was in November, 1910. Before I took the medicine, I had three hemorrhages; since I have been taking it, I have not had any. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time I have not lost one day's work through sickness, I can highly recommend Eckman's Alterative to anyone who is suffering from Tuberculosis or Gland Trouble, providing they take it as directed. I will gladly correspond with any party desiring further information of what the medicine did for me."

(Sworn affidavit) JOSEPH B. WHITE.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists
